Current issues, topics, stressors Client presented with euthymic mood, congruent affect, average grooming, coherent thought, normal speech, and a/o x4. Client reports decrease in anxiety, but still struggles emotionally when he reflects on the impact the situation has had on others. He reported thinking about his previous girlfriend and her struggles with the situation while battling cancer. Client indicated that it is painful to remember those things.

*Therapeutic interventions & response

Therapeutic interventions & response Provided empathic listening, discussed recent triggers, normalized/validated mood related to past, and coping via CBT. Client shared that he recently went to do some pleadings and filings in civil court and having to think and deal with the past events brought back some of its pain. He reported feeling sad and hurt by the impact the situation had on his previous partner who was attacked and harassed while dealing with cancer. In addition, he shared that he was falsely arrested 2 weeks after her death as the women had indicated that he was killing women with rat poison. He shared feeling horrible remembering those things. He indicated that people create lies and spread them on social media with no regret or feeling for others. He hopes that all he is doing legally will help

Client reports feeling okay, but states that he still struggles with his sleep due to odd dreams and the economic damage. He shared that he has been thinking a lot about the loss in opportunities and the stress that it has caused in his relationships.

*Therapeutic interventions & response

Therapeutic interventions & response Provided empathic listening, discussed mood, anger, continued thought management, and coping via CBT. Client reports that he has been thinking about the loss opportunities due to being defamed by some random people. In addition, he indicated that it has been hard on all his relationships, but especially love relationships due to the nature of the website. He reports that he is still managing his time on social platforms, and is doing better with the anxiety. He shared that he has been thinking about the financial impact as things are so expensive and opportunities have been limited. He reports still feeling grateful for the support from his parents and girlfriend. He shared that spending time with them helps his mood and give him hope that things will be resolved.

*Progress toward goals

Progress toward goals Mild progress. Client reports slight decrease in anxiety, and ability to sleep in spite of odd dreams.
